A GERMAN WRITES

TO OTHER GERMANS

To the Editor:
Dear Sir—As a German, I would like to say a few words through your paper to the German people of our population.

I do not doubt that there have been many times, when you as Germans, have thought that you feel hurt, perhaps by some remarks which have been made, (either through the press or word of mouth) which you have been exposed to, either in contempt against the Germans. But when we stop and think of the awful deeds which the German soldiers have committed against the women and children, and against their own countrymen, of innocent people, which they have violated international law and decency, can we expect anything else? Is it not human nature to speak out against such disastrous conduct of the German people, ought to overlook and forget those who, in a passion, say nasty things against the German people, and yet have made no reference to the German people in this country.

We, as German people, have always been respected until this war broke out. There has now been a bitter feeling created in the hearts of some against the Germans which has caused us to feel that it is time to put an end to all of which blame the German army on account of the crimes committed by order of the Kaiser.

Let us, as Germans, so conduct ourselves that we may still, in spite of what German people have done, the respect and good-will of those with whom we may come in contact.
Now, I would like to say a few words to the pro-Germans. If any should happen to read this, it is hard to believe that you do not the people of German descent living in Canada, or anywhere else under the British flag and protection, can be in favor of or have any sympathy with Germany in this war, and I do not know of any German who will ignore the cause of Germany but that brought this war about. The murder of Archduke Ferdinand of Austria at Sarajevo, by a Servian, could easily have been settled had not Germany interfered. Germany saw in this her chance to prove her right, for which she had been preparing for the last forty years. She had also sent out her spies to spy and find out the condition that the rest of the world was in, so as to be well prepared for war, and she did not want to miss the chance to become a world power. Germany has laid the blame for this war on England.
Now my friend, did not Germany try to protect Belgium, and was not she the one that tried to break that treaty and to make light of it, and was not England in honor bound to protect Belgium after signing a treaty that she would? Now Germany was unprepared and ought to be considered evidence that she did not seek war with Germany. Why was Germany mauling such great preparation when no nation was seeking a quarrel with her?
Now she takes a little time and does your kind of all prejudices. You have enjoyed the blessing of freedom in this country, but you do not have the right to interfere with our freedom. You can always make a living and are not overburdened with taxes. It is honorable on your part to defend Germany in her actions in this war? Think of the cruelty and the wantonness of the unshod method of warfare.
We have an empire to be proud of, it is the best under the sun, and I am proud to belong to the British nation, a nation that has always been a light to the world, and will not shrink to see the world crushed by a stronger power. Now my friend, England is not fighting against the Germans as a German German, but to break down that ungodly militarism which has transycombed

the German nation, and I think that when this war is over even the German people in Germany will thank England for the day when they realized that the world which they cannot get as long as they ruled by the Kaiser.

Now, my friend, just take a calm view of the situation in your just moments, and make a good use of this opportunity. Let your lat. & long. tell you, and I am sure you will arrive at the conclusion that Germany is in the wrong.

Yours truly,
F. C. Liersch,
Attwood, Ont., March 21.

THE WOMAN'S PART

What nations full of pride and lust,
Have gone beyond control.
Then other nations must chastise
And so from pole to pole,
From east to west, from north to south.

French, Russ and little Jap, Italian, Serb and Englishman.
Must cure the naughty chap.

And so one day a cry was heard,
In France and England too.
In Russia and in Serbia.

"There's work for us to do,"
The world has been dischained dog.
Has bitten Belgium bad.
A menace to our land.

Because we think he's mad.

And so today fair Canada
Has sent her to the German curs.
Our girls and children shay.
Our factory wheels are turning still.

Business is done as usual,
As well now as before.

Our wives have gone and left their toll,
Our old men are all alone.
And women's hands will take them in.
And do it gladly, too.

They'll work all day, men have done.

But when the day is o'er,
They'll go home and smoke and read.

Like men have done before.

They'll hurry home, where work still waits.

Where children must be fed,
They'll scrub the floor and wash and sew.

They'll cool and make the bed,
They'll keep the home fires burning bright.

That when the men come back,
They'll be a cheery fireside.

For all who did not slack.

They'll do the thousand little things
That they alone can do.

They'll knit warm socks for soldiers
And then them come.

And then them come, too,
They'll draw their home sons back.

For those who are so dear.

They'll sit up late, and pen in hand
Will write words full of cheer.

Home and love, and duty, home.
By boys who know no fear.

But on a word of all the toll.

That they alone are perfect.

They'll knit warm socks for soldiers
And then them come.

And then them come, too,
They'll draw their home sons back.

For those who are so dear.

They'll sit up late, and pen in hand
Will write words full of cheer.

Home and love, and duty, home.

By boys who know no fear.

But on a word of all the toll.

That they alone are perfect.

They'll knit warm socks for soldiers
And then them come.

And then them come, too,
They'll draw their home sons back.

For those who are so dear.

They'll sit up late, and pen in hand
Will write words full of cheer.

Home and love, and duty, home.

By boys who know no fear.

But on a word of all the toll.

OPPOSITION TAKES A NEW TACK
ASKS FOR MORE
COMMISSIONS

Edmonton, April 14.—That the opposition are still bent upon carrying on a campaign of obstruction of public business in connection with the sitting of the legislature was evident today when they opposed a sitting on Saturday and gave notice of two resolutions calling for royal commissions which are interpreted by several of the more experienced members of the house as bringing all the work of the opposition during the session into ridicule.

On the notice of a royal commission calling for royal commissions to investigate the administration of railways, the blanket charge being a resume of the speech made during the session that the MacLaurin system of railways had been unduly favored and exacted a heavy toll on traffic and inspection, and unsatisfactory estimates. He suggested a commission of two judges and an engineer. Premier Sifton caused a laugh by asking why he should not have three, as well as the other two. The system was explained that a resolution of this character would have permitted a debate quite as fully as the one moved and would have avoided the placing of the opposition in a ridiculous light before the country.

R. E. Campbell, Rocky Mountain, however, capped the climax by giving a notice of resolution calling for a royal commission "to investigate the position that the provincial government had interfered with the working of the department and the administration of justice. No charge was made other than the half as serious as that in the resolution.

While Mr. Blown's resolution occasioned a broad smile that of Mr. Campbell appealed to the visibilities of the house and there was general laughter.

Mr. Blown's resolution received a standing ovation from the opposition leaders, Michener, Tweedie and Headley opposed it. The motion carried on a standing vote.

Humours were general in the corridors and the opposition were pleased over the situation, although they expected these resolutions to precipitate and prolong the session as a measure of revenge. After the flurry the house settled down to committee work.

MONEY IN POULTRY

Whether hatched in an "appartment" or under a hen, a winter-laying fowl is a paying proposition in our country at least. To support my statement, I wish to mention a few of the facts of the country which the humble hen is doing her best in keeping the profit and loss balance on the right side of the account, says a writer in an American farm journal. The farmer, who could not possibly be called a professional poultry man, as he owns and operates a 1,500-acre farm, and markets potatoes and grain by the carload, is very enthusiastic over the profits realized by the fowl. He regards his hens as his best strength, as winter comes he keeps them in a warm house in winter. This means assure us that chickens pay well on a farm.

Another very aggressive farmer reports that the eggs marketed throughout the winter are so scarce that he is obliged to keep a little bag of his produce all the time, and the family at his table numbered sixteen. On this farm, like the other two poultry industry is not emphasized, the fowl are given a comfortable quarter and ordinary care, the owner that they are giving good returns for the capital and labor invested.

There are other instances which I might mention, where the egg money from a small flock was practically all the cash new settlers saw during the first season in the country and still others where the actual profits from an entire farm consisted of the good which the fowl produced.

I do not love chickens except in a pot pie or roasted; I know of no other living creature which has so many different ways of being irritating as the hen allowed uncontrolled. In fact, he allowed uncontrolled chickens to do a great deal of damage. But when restricted, his meat is given half a chance, and when made up all in the number of "strictly fresh" she will keep in the egg basket.

Daylight saving in Calgary will come into effect on May 1, and thereafter anyone who hr's v's the by-law, which is to be passed will be liable to a fine. But it is safe bet that the first to be fined will be the disposition of the cities, to give the new scheme a fair trial. Chas. H. Hoigkiss, chief publicity commissioner of agriculture states that a recent conference in which the Ste. commissioners in the city of Ste. informed him that quite a number of settlers was being sent forward by him.

COLD STORAGE AND THE COST OF LIVING

Cold storage presents as the years pass to us greater and greater effect on the cost of living. Not only storekeepers and hotel-keepers, but ordinary house-holders in increasing numbers are coming to recognize that the buying of food in quantity, and storing it, cold storage means a sounder division of investment. Hence the general interest possessed by Bulletin 44, and r. the title of "The Cold Storage of Food Products" and written by J. A. Miller, dairy and cold storage commissioner for the province, and Harry Burgess, cold storage inspector. Every person who makes use of a kitchen refrigerator, or places milk, butter, meat, fruit or vegetables in the refrigerator puts into practice the principles which are the basis of the system of the most up-to-date cold storage warehouse and follows in some particulars the methods described in this comprehensive and informative publication. An example of the length of time in which the system is installed in a house is that the eggs were not for the cold storage facilities which are now available, the price of eggs would, for lack of an immediate market, go so low during the long period of the spring and early summer that the producer would be seriously discouraged, while the scarcity that would result during the season of non-supply would boost prices to such an extent as to make them prohibitive for the majority of the people. Eggs are not one of the articles of food the price of which is regulated, and to some extent standardized, by cold storage. Dairy products, meat, fish and fruit can all be kept and preserved if the treat is set out in this bulletin, which is reproduced in full in the April application to the publications department of agriculture, Ottawa.

He also refers to the publication of

INVENTION OF THE NEWSPAPER

In the year 1622, a French physician "invented" the newspaper. He had made many victims to pestilence and was able to bring them a bit of gossip or news about some person of their acquaintance, or about "happenings at Court."

He devised the idea of a journal which would publish and print this sort of information in a comprehensive way, making it generally available. He believed that the human interest in such intelligence would make it a widely popular enterprise.

He secured, from Cardinal Richelieu, a patent for the publication of a newspaper. He called it "Paris Gazette." It was the first newspaper in the modern sense of the term.

An old French physician rendered a service to mankind worth a million times as much as that of the great Richelieu.

Before the advent of the newspaper news was carried about from one to another in a manner which had no comparison with this physician's invention.

The same principle upon which the newspaper was founded underlies street advertising. It makes available to all the people the facts and information which are in the old way, circulated and unprinted in a limited way from one to another.

Nowadays your newspaper would not be a newspaper in any complete sense unless it carried store news quite as well as other news.

A dispatch from Rome says: "Signor Marconi has been engaged in research work in Italy, where he has been able to make many scientific experiments and tests. He indicates that the results obtained are of great interest and directly concern the future practice of the science of wireless telephony over both land and sea. He has made a number of other experiments by means of electric sparks, unshielded sparks or continuous waves. He is now engaged in making application for patents, probably to be applied at once in Italy for military purposes. By these means results are therefore impossible, are obtained.

The World's Markets

Chicago, April 18.—Reports that Germany was likely to meet the wishes of the U.S. Senate in the sex case helped today to rally the price of wheat and so, too, did rains that threatened delay to seeding in the northwest. Quotations closed firm at 1 1/4 to 1, and July at 1 1/4. Corn, 1 to 1 1/4, and oats 1 to 1 1/4. In探视ing the outcome varied from 2 1/2 to a rise of 1 1/2.

At first the wheat market showed much depression, largely as a result of business, regarding the situation in Russia with Germany. However, Liverpool prices were on the downward grade, impelled mainly by free offers from Canada. Another handicap for the bulls was the fact that receipts at Kansas City during the next sixty days did not exceed 100,000 bushels of the corresponding time last year, the reason being that Kansas and Nebraska crop prospects were said to have improved to a notable extent. Before mid-day, however, sentiment appeared to be developing decidedly against the bear, so that was the time the announcements were made that the German ambassador would have a meeting with Secretary Lansing and that concessions might be expected from the Berlin foreign office. Word that the Americans would take up a German demand for a loan of tomorrow failed to rouse more than a temporary cheer to optimism of wheat buyers in the latest dealings. Reports from the northwest telling of rains over a wide area, particularly toward making the close firm at virtually the highest level of the market.

Edmonton, April 18.—Word was received in the city today of the death in a hospital in Boulogne of A. Bramley Moore, of the Princess of Wales, a well-known resident and former member of the legislature for Lloydminster. Mr. Moore was one of the two members of the legislature who, in 1904, investigated the other member being Dr. Cory, which two or three years ago carried on extensive investigations in Europe, the United States and Canada, in connection with agricultural credits.

Owing to the havoc caused by modern artillery, commanders are now carrying out a considerable number of night movements and movements under the protective cover of darkness. The night attack is a form of tactics which is becoming popular, and night fighting has developed into quite a science. All manner of ingenious ruses are practiced to enable the troops to move silently across country and launch an unexpected attack on the enemy.

The success of such tactics depends very largely on the silence with which they are carried out. During night operations there are strictly no lights, and when the "holy ghost," which is to say, across the shoulder, this is to prevent the muzzle of the rifle glittering in the moonlight above the undergrowth.

The men have to carry their arms in the right hand, but when the "holy ghost" is shown on the left side, the weapon would continually rattle against the rifle, and cause a sound which could be heard for a long distance, especially if several hundred men were engaged in the attack.

At night the bugles are clashed.

To avoid noise, the bugles are silent, so as to minimize the noise during a night attack, never march in step. The steady rhythmic tramp of several hundred soldiers would be heard for miles.

Hard roads are avoided, and the soldiers are to march in the grade if possible, two columns of men occupying each side of the highway, this formation being the usual marching formation of "four" cut in two.

The men are to be scattered in the troop can quickly cover themselves

each side of a road, if they are marching at the side of it, and they are far more likely to escape detection than if they had to scamper noiselessly from the thoroughfare itself.

Advance in column, march at night, troops, whenever possible, to choose the direction of their attack so that they march with the moon behind them.

PALPITATION OF THE HEART.

Sudden fright or emotion may cause a momentary arrest of the heart's action, or some excitement or apprehension may set up a rapid action of the heart thereby causing palpitation.

Palpitation, again, is often the result of digestive disorders arising from the stomach, or may be the result of over indulgence of tobacco or alcoholic drinks.

The only safe remedy for heart trouble is to use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

LEGISLATORS HAD ALL

DAY SESSION SATURDAY

Education April 15. The Saturday session of the legislature was occupied in committee by the statute law amendment act, and there were several important clauses there was considerable discussion. The bill was resumed at the night sitting.

The bill to provide voice for radio, taxation of theatre-goers and the soldiers' moratorium were given a third reading.

Looking Backward

From The Times, April 20, 1911.

Wetaskiwin will have a good baseball this season. The boys have started practice and will soon be ready to meet all comers.

E. H. O'Brien has purchased the business of the Wetaskiwin Bottling Works.

It has been going the rounds that the city people have a feeling against the co-operative movement started by the farmers of the district, but the last news from the city is to the contrary. About seventy-five men of Wetaskiwin citizens follow.

Market quotations—Wheat No. 1 Northern, 70c, Oats, 28c; Barley, 37c.

From The Times, April 19, 1906.

A terrible sunburn attack San Francisco at 5:13 this morning and reports reveal the fact that it was the worse in the history of California. It is believed over three thousand cases of sunburn were suffered and property loss is over forty millions.

H. J. Donnelly, who so efficiently managed the scenario last year, has arrived to assume charge again this season.

The Alpha Club held their last meeting for the season at the Methodist parsonage on Monday evening. A. R. Dickson, returning officer for the by-election, made an official count of the ballots, when it was found that Dr. Cross had lost his majority. Mr. McIntrye, the Liberal candidate, polled 2813 votes, while his opponent received only 1301.

The Wetaskiwin band is getting in some practice these nights, and the boys are making very satisfactory progress.

Settlers are streaming into the district by the trainload and accommodation is at a premium.

EIGHT WEEKS SESSION OF THE ALBERTA LEGISLATURE CLOSES

The legislature was prorogued on Wednesday by Lieutenant Governor Brett after a session extending over eight weeks, less one day. Among the most important measures enacted since the creation of Alberta as a province were passed, these being the equal suffrage bill and the act banning prohibition of the liquor traffic into force. The bills were enacted to the particular buildings by a detachment of the R.N.W.M.P., under Inspector Wood.

The House sat yesterday morning at 11:30 and after the bills remaining on the list to be disposed of had been read and voted on passed a bill to extend the election of the trustees before the public accounts committee in regard to the administration of the railways and telephone department be prorogued.

Premier Sifton then moved in confidence with an amendment to the bill, that the election of the trustees be deferred until after the election of the members of the legislative assembly can hold.

The motion was agreed to without dissent, both sides of the house realising that Mr. Smith had not done so on the understanding that he would, very definitely, chairman of the municipal law committee, one of the most responsible positions that a member of the legislative assembly can hold.

By this time it was twelve o'clock when the Lieutenant Governor entered the chamber accompanied by Lieutenant Sifton and attended by Inspector Upper, of the R.N.W.M.P., as A.D.C. His Honor having given his assent to the list of bills read by the Clerk, R. Cowen, proceeded to the bar and signed the bills assented to. His Honor having attended earlier in the session for the purpose of conferring the royal warrant on the supply bill:

An Act respecting the Sale of Intoxicating Liquor.

An Act to provide for Equal Suffrage.

An Act respecting Drainage.

An Act to incorporate the United Municipalities of Alberta.

UNION COMMITTEE AGAIN VOTES FOR UNITING CHURCHES

Toronto, April 13.—The union committee of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in Canada has passed a resolution again recommending church union, and the resolution has the support of sixty per cent of the committee. The resolution passed today will be considered at the meeting of the assembly which meets in Winnipeg in June. After discussion it will last for two days, a motion to be voted on that was passed sponsored by Principal Ganner, of Knox College.

There was spirited opposition to the resolution favoring union. The opposition was carried on by Mr. Smith, of Manitoba, who has been acting as deputy speaker, to be formally voted on that position.

The motion was agreed to without dissent, both sides of the house realising that Mr. Smith has not done so on the understanding that he would, very definitely, chairman of the municipal law committee, one of the most responsible positions that a member of the legislative assembly can hold.

By this time it was twelve o'clock when the Lieutenant Governor entered the chamber accompanied by Lieutenant Sifton and attended by Inspector Upper, of the R.N.W.M.P., as A.D.C.
